

Kora East

Motivational Speaker & Success Coach

Kora East is a former ballerina turned success coach who rebuilt her life from the ground up. After leaving a promising dance career, she faced financial hardship so severe she found herself singing on the street just to survive. Today, she sings on stages, speaks at events, and coaches ambitious women to rise from adversity and create success on their own terms. Her story proves that identity can be rebuilt, confidence can be learned, and no rock bottom is final.
